Burnaby, the third largest populated region in BC, is both a part of Greater Vancouver and a municipality in its own right. Amidst outstanding beauty with lakes, rivers and mountain scenery, Burnaby is nestled around the high peak of solitary Burnaby Mountain. It is blessed with a remarkable number of interconnected parks and trails of different sizes and features. Deer Lake Park, Burnaby's hub of arts, culture and heritage, is the crowning jewel of this park system. High atop Burnaby Mountain sits Simon Fraser University.

Notable features:

- Twenty minutes from Vancouver International Airport and within easy transit to downtown Vancouver
- Located two hours from Whistler, one of North America's most world renowned ski resorts, and close to 3 local ski resorts
- 25% of land designated as parks and open space
- Main industries include: technology, petroleum, post-secondary education and tourism
- Major commercial town centre development
