The World Within a City

Toronto is one of the most diverse cities in Canada and in the world. Welcoming new residents and visitors every day, this city exudes a cosmopolitan and ethnically diverse atmosphere at every corner. From cultural neighbourhoods to artistic quarters, from the largest financial district in Canada to sunny beaches, Toronto has something for everyone. Residents live and thrive in both the downtown and in the suburbs. Even the suburban towns and cities that form part of the Greater Toronto area offer their own charms and unique qualities that bring this city alive.

About Toronto Catholic Schools

The Catholic schools operate independently of the public school system, yet are also publicly funded and are governed by the same overall Provincial Ministry of Education standards and guidelines. As such, Catholic schools offer the same variety and high level course options as our public schools in the areas of Math, Science, Languages, Business, Computer studies, Technology. In addition, they offer a wide breadth of competitive sports and social recreational clubs and activities. Daily life in a Catholic school is very similar to that of a public school.

Features:

- Students wear uniforms
- Students are not required to be Catholic to attend a Catholic High School, but must respect the nature and philosophy of the school, and must attend church mass when required with their class.

Curriculum:

- The curriculum is enhanced by Gospel values. Faith development is integral to every part of Catholic education, as students are called to respect the dignity of all human persons in a caring community.
- Students are required to take one religious studies course per year in addition to courses in the other subject areas.
Example: Grade 11: World Religions // Grade 12: Church & Culture
International students attending for only one semester may be exempt.

Philosophy:

Students are taught the virtues and values of the Catholic faith including community, responsibility, accountability, collaboration, caring and family, nurturing them to be examples of good students as well as good citizens.
